

APACVS Privacy Statement

The Association of Physician Assistants in Cardiovascular Surgery (APACVS) provides information and services on the Internet as a benefit and a service to its members and others. APACVS is committed to protecting the privacy of our members and others who utilize its Web site.

APACVS will not share financial information gathered on this site with third parties. APACVS detects and uses the IP addresses of visitors to the site in order to assist in diagnosis and solving problems with the server and to assist with the administration of the APACVS web site.

APACVS uses an order form for customers to purchase products and services offered on the site. APACVS utilizes browser cookies placed on the customer's machine to keep track of the customer's shopping cart. APACVS also collects user contact information (such as name, address, telephone numbers, and e-mail addresses) and financial information (such as credit card numbers) for use in processing and fulfilling orders for products and services. APACVS may also use a purchaser's information to contact the purchaser when necessary. Financial information collected on the site is used only to bill the purchaser for products and services. Limited personally identifiable information (such as name and address and phone number) is occasionally shared with third parties, so these parties can send you promotional materials about educational programs or goods and services.

APACVS uses various technologies and security measures to protect the loss, misuse, and alteration of the information under its control.

Please direct any questions about this Privacy Statement here. The APACVS Web site is hosted by CTSNet, which also provides an on-line Privacy Statement at <http://www.ctsnet.org/sections/aboutctsnet/privacy/index.html>.